Langston to Tell Why He Has Beend of Mahone and Why Mahone is His Friend—Views of the Treaty.

Peressions, Va., March 26.-The an-Peressions, Va., March 26.—The an-consequence of the com-conise between General Mahone and thin M. Langston, the leaders of the two ctions of the Republican party in Vir-nia, caused a genuine sensation in po-ical circles here to-day. That these to men, who have hitherto been implacatwo mea, who have hitherto been implacable foes, at daggers'-points, as it were, personally and politically; whose abuse of each other has been of the most insulting and stinging nature; between whom the color-line had been drawn with a distinctness never before known in the political annals of the "black district," should shake hands across the bloody chasm, heal their differences, and become fast friends, was an announcement that could not but cause profound surprise.

Langston went to Richmond this morning before any statement could be obtained from him in reference to the matter.
But from what can be learned outside no doubt is felt that a truce has been patched up botween him and General Mahone, but to what extent or for what purpose cannot be definitely ascertained.

Langston Will Explain WEY.

This much is certain, however, that This much is certain, however, that dress in this city to-morrow night, in which be says he will tell his constituents why, after all that has occurred, "he has become a friend of General Mahone's and why the General has become his friend." He was to have spoken last night, but by reason of insufficient notice the audience was small, and he suggested an adjournment until Friday night, when he would give an account of his stewardship in Congress, and explain the compromise between himself and General Mahone. He will also probably explain why he was the only Republican to introduce a bill in Congress which practically disfranchised a large number of negroes.

Innorant of the conjects.

IGNORANT OF THE OBJECTS.

Republicans who were seen to-day expressed themselves as ignorant of the objects of the compromise, though they said they have for some time been aware that efforts were being made to bring the two leaders together. Friends of General Mahone say that the immediate objects, or at least one of the objects, is to combine and overthrow Colonel James D. Brady, the Virginia representative on the Republican National Committee and Collector of Internal Revenue for this district. General Mahone and Colonel Brady have long been personally and politically estranged, though Colonel Brady was at one time friendly to Langston and was his counsel when contesting for Mr. Venable's seat in Congress, yet he dropped him and refused to countenance his candidacy for Congress last fall. For these reasons his lucrative position by appointment of President Harrison is not agreeable to either, and it is said that strong efforts will be made to have him ousted from the collectorship. But it is intimated further that the friendly understanding between the two leaders is designed to have greater influence upon the future politics of the State, and will again control the State.

A HUMILIATING SPECTACLE. IGNORANT OF THE OBJECTS. A HUMILIATING SPECTACLE.

A HUMILIATING SPECTACLE.

A prominent white anti-Mahone Republican said to your correspondent to-day that the compromise, viewed under all aspects of the case, is one of the most humiliating spectacles that could be presented to the Republicans of Virginia, not only humiliating but contemptible, and that it would fall of good results. If it were contemplated to unite the two factions on a common platform, after the treatment the negroes had received at the hands of General Mahone and his friends the result would be a disastrous failure. Neither would such a compromise accomplish anything if it has for its object the beheading and removal of Collector Brady. WOFULLY MISTAKEN.

Your correspondent furthermore interviewed a number of leading colored men who have heretofore been fast friends and supporters of John M. Langston. They unhesitatingly declared that if Langston has joined hands with General Mahone with the idea that he can deliver the negro vote he will find himself wofully mistaken. The negroes, while Republicans, still have pride and honor left and they will never under any circumstances agree to have any further political affiliations with General Mahone. They will never forget his treatment of them or his efforts to keen them down.

o keep them down. Another Republican gave it as his opinion hat General Malone's object in making jends with Langston is to control the

It is reported in high political circles here that an estrangement has occurred between General Mahone and Colonel McCaull, Collector of Internal Revenue in the Lynchburg district, by reason of recent political appointments, and that the gallant Colonel, who has all along been one of the General's strongest friends, has switched off into the ranks of his opponents. This information comes so direct that its truth is not doubted.

JUDGE LEWIS'S PROSPECTS. From the best information to be obtained it is believed that if the appointment of the new United States judgeship is given to Virginia it will be bestowed upon Judge Lewis, of the State Supreme Court. It is believed that neither Judge Paul nor Judge Weddill, stands any chance. addill stands any chance.

Warsaw, Va., March 26.—In the political line things are rapidly warming up to fever heat in this county and point to the warmest spring election that has perhaps taken place within its history.

Candidates for the different county offices are more numerous than ever known before, both Republican and Democratic, especially for the office of commissioner of the revenue, which seems to be the bost-paying one, and another big thing in its favor is that there is no bond attached to it, which is a big convenience, as bonds nowadars are not so easily given. It is thought by many there will be independent candidates out from both sides for this position, as each candidate (which is often the case) thinks he is entitled to the nomination, because he is "the most popular man" his party could possibly nominate. For the positions of sheriff and treasurer there are only a few apprants, and for Commonwalth's attorney only two candidates are out—one a Republican and the other a Democrat. In both conventions, which will soon convene, every indication points to a lively scramble for the nominatuons, and no doubt will furnish interesting reading.

NORTHERN-NECK RAILROAD. Our people are still deeply interested in the contemplated railroad through the Northern Neck, and it is a matter which is being more talked of at present than in former years. Quite a number of our farmers upon the river coast have gone into the trucking business on an extended scale. A FIVE HUNDRED FEET FALL.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

Baltimore, Mp., March 26.—At the meeting of the army and navy of the Confederate States on Tuesday evening a committee of five, composed of Colonel Charles Marshall, Joseph Packard, Jr., Cridgely Goodwin, Skipwith Wilmer, and W. Stewart Symington, were appointed by the president to prenare and present at a future meeting of the society suitable resolutions to express the feelings of affection and respect which the society feels for the memory of General Joseph E. Johnston, and that the same committee were to have the power if in their judgment they considered it proper to arrange for a public demonstration which will testify the feelings of the whole community for him. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Cmcago, March 26.—A special dispatch from Ottawa, Ont., says: There has evidently been some hitch in the projected trip of Sir Charles Tupper and his colleagues to Washington and it is believed that it is due to a refusal of Newfoundland to join in negotiations with Canada for reciprocity with the United States that the delay may be attributed, and it is learned, however, from reliable quarters that a States that the delay may be attributed, and it is learned, however, from reliable quarters that a meeting of the Cabinet is to be held to discuss the matter, when some definite plan may be decided upon. Sir Charles's views of what reciprocity should be and the limits to which the Dominion Government is prepared to go are somewhat at variance. Sir Charles's idea is more liberal in its scope and application than the views of his colleagues. Sir Charles, during the recent campaign, while in Nova Scotia, assured the electors of that Province that whatever arrangement might be made for reciprocal exchange of commodities between Cauada and the United States there would be no modification of the duty imposed unon bituminous coal imported from the United States. It is learned that this assurance was given upon his own responsibility and that several members of the Cabinet, especially those from Ontario, are opposed to any such arrangement. demonstration which will testify the feelings of the whole community for him.

This afternoon a meeting of the committee was called at 3 o'clock at Colonel Charles Marshall's office. Those of the committee who attended the meeting were Cridgley Goodwin, Colonel Marshall, Joseph Packard, Jr., and Goneral Bradley T. Joheson, who was especially invited T. Johnson, who was especially invited by Colonel Marshall.

A PUBLIC MEETING. A PUBLIC MEETING.

After long consultation it was decided to hold a public meeting in the near future when appropriate resolutions will be read and speeches made. There will be only one orator. The committee would not say who it was to be, but it is said General Fitzhugh Lee is the man, and if he does not accept Hon. M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, will be asked. The meeting will be held at the Fifth Regiment Armory, which has been offered the society by General Jones Howard.

honor Mr. Brainard's claim, is made public to-day.

A decision of the Supreme Court is quoted to show that an officer "cannot collect his fees or claim any right incident to his office without showing himself to be an officer & purc." proceeded so far that the treaty was ratified by the Swiss Government. It is the practice in that country to submit the draft of a treaty to the legislative branch of the Government before it can be definitely proposed to the other party to the treaty, which amounts to ratification in advance of negotiation. In the case of the arbitration treaty, however, when it reached Secretary Frelinghuysen he noted a number of objections to the text, finding it generally too vague and without proper limitations, so the negotiations lapsed. When the arbitration agreement was made between the nations of North, South, and Central America a copy of the treaty was sent to each European Government. This treaty was much more elaborate and specific in its terms than that proposed to Mr. Frelinghuysen, and, therefore, more likely to meet the approval of punctilious nations. It is presumed at the Department of State that if any action has been recently taken by the Swiss Government upon the subject, as reported in the press dispatches, it was probably the submission by the President of Switzerland of a copy of the Pan-American treaty to the Legislature with a recommendation that Switzerland signify her adherence to its provisions in response to the invitation to European nations by the International American Conference. THE FLURRY IN GRAIN. Corn Excited Still-Pronouncedly S

Wheat Weak—Provisions Weak.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]
Chicago, March 26.—There was a very fair division of opinion in the trading pits when business commenced, but when the time came to adjourn over to-morrow's holiday the bullish sentiment was badly weakened, and short sellers or those inclined to that policy were proportionately encouraged. Corn provided the sensation of the day, dropping ½c, per bushel from the price it sold at near the start. Wheat went off ½c, from its high point, and provisions also weakened. Wheat started strong at $1.03½ for May and $1.01½ for July, the selling pressure being stronger for the July future. May advanced to $1.03½, and was well held for about five minutes around $1.03½, and, a good demand springing up for July, it rose to $1.01½. Corn was so pronouncedly soft, however, that short sellers of wheat tumbled over each other in their efforts to take advantage of what demand was still remaining. The price of the May future broke to $1.02½, and possibly a sale or two was made at $1.02½, July sold off at the same time to $1.02½, and possibly as ale or two was made at $1.02½, and yeary general buying back of the lines of the local shorts. The advance was only temporary, however. The price rose to $1.02½, but gradually worked back to the lowest figures named above, and the latest trading was at $1.02½ for May and $1.00½ for July. The corn market was again the scene of excitement similar to that of the last few days. The opening The Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance to-day concluded its examination of the books of the retiring state secretary, E. C. Beddingfield. It elected William L. The Supreme Court has filed an opinion in an interesting case. W. T. Hodge, of this county, brought suit as relator in the name of the State against about forty railways to recover a penalty of $500 from each for failure to make annual reports to the Governor. The case came up before Julige MacRae, the defendant road, the Marietta and North Georgia, which was taken as a test, demurring and raising the question whether the penalty belonged to the State for the benefit of the school-fund or might to be recovered by any one suing in the name of the State as relator. The Judge held that no person can bring such an action but the State through its accredited officer, and sustained the demurrer dismissing the action. The Supreme Court, to which Hodge appealed, sustains the decision of the lower court. THREATEN TO RESIST.

BALTIMOSE, MD., March 26.—The Manufacturers' Record publishes a special two-page interview with President Ingalls, of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, reviewing the development of Virginia and West Virginia and the work that the Chesapeake and Ch peake and Ohio is doing to aid it. Pres dent Ingalis announces his early removal from Cincinnati to New York that he may be in a better position to attract capital to the South.

OF ALMOST INFINITE RESOURCES.

Mr. Ingalls said that it is undoubtedly true that the country traversed by his road will become as populous and as prosperous and as much crowded with thriving manufacturing cities and towns as any part of Pennsylvania now is. It is a country of almost infinite resources, and the work that has been done during the last two years in the opening up of this region, the building of towns, and the establishment of manufacturing enterprises is but the beginning of an advancement that will create an enormous amount of wealth and will cause the building of manufacturing cities along the entire line of the road in the two Virginias.

FOUNDATION FOR MANY BIG CITIES.

Taking the three items of coal, iron, and timber, alone, there is a basis of latent wealth in the country drained by the Chesapeake and Ohio and its branches that will furnish a solid foundation for a large number of big cities, as well as for a great many prosperous industrial towns with populations of from 5,000 to 20,000 each. When to these advantages are added the great agricultural resources of the two States, the petroleum and natural gas, the fire-clavs and all the other wealth-creating resources, it can be readily seen that there is practically no limit to the healthy advancement of the entire country from Newport News to Cincinnati.

Newport News to Cincinnati.

A BUSY WEEK.

The Manufacturers' Record also says that the past week has been one of the busiest in the industrial advancement of the South ever known. It has been a week crowded with the organization and projection of solid industrial enterprises throughout the whole South and of large investments of outside capital in manufactures, while comparatively tew new land companies have been reported.

BIG ENTERPRISES. So numerous have been the new enter-prises reported that it is difficult to give in a brief summary a comprehensive idea of the widespread activity which the full record of the week shows. Among the leading concerns reported is a $1,500,000 company now being organized in New York to establish cotton-seed-oil refineries;

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] Louisville, Kr., March 26.—The official statement of Schwartz & Co., the falling bank-ers, is: Assets, $51,553; liabilities, $802,863.

sesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales Poculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be in-duced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get
